Grandma and Grandpa Cramer promised to move to Texas when we had a red-headed boy, and they arrived on your first birthday. April 8, 1947.

They drove from Cleveland, Ohio to Alpine in a Ford V-8, stopping at windmills for water when the old car needed it.

At the rockpile

I'll leave your playhouse alone if I can borrow your tricycle, Peggy doesn't look too sure of the trade

Peggy-Anne watches from on top the doghouse while you took over the pail
